

WEDNESDAY,
SEPTEMBER 12, 1956

THE JERUSALEM POST

PRICE: 120 PRUTA
VOL. XXXII, No. 8662

Column One
By DAVID COURTY

Cairo Says 5 Soldiers Killed In Clash

WRONGDOING on what may be called a collective, community or national scale, and by the standards of modern ethics, is still, to a large extent, a vested interest exercising powerful pressure upon governments which have no part in the wrongdoing and try to end it. In law, it should be possible for governments with enormous economic, military and even moral resources to ensure peace, to stop slavery, to bring puffed-up sovereignies to their senses. In logic, the U.S. Administration, backed by the decisions it has pre-mere Court, should be able to enforce its policy of desegregation in schools.

In practice, peace cannot be ensured, slavery cannot be stopped, the exaggerated manifestations of sovereignty cannot be got rid of, as simply as that; and the American Administration cannot, as it says, at that control its Southern States to drop racism, or its racists to behave like civilized persons. It is not a question of political courage or cowardice; but largely one of common sense, which nearly always, nowadays, means compromise, as an essential element in the search for "gradualness." For some time, therefore, unless we want serious trouble without a outcome, we must "co-exist" not only with Communism but also with the kind of slavery carried on in Saudi Arabia, with the southern racists of the United States, and with a dozen or more other heads and national shortcomings.

IT IS disappointing, nevertheless, to find that the U.N. conference of plenipotentiaries held at Geneva has had to be satisfied with a supplementary convention on the abolition of slavery from which the most effective article has been withdrawn. Slave trading ships, which normally pass through the Red Sea and the Persian Gulf, may still pass without let or hindrance. Thus, in practice, the supplementary convention cannot do much to upon the means of abolition down in the 1926 convention, which was intended to fortify and reinforce. The article withdrawn from the draft recommended by an ad hoc committee which met in New York last January, would have given warships and military aircraft of the contracting parties the right to stop, search and seize suspected slave ships sailing under the flag of any such contracting party; and without that right it is difficult to see how any of the signatories to the convention can stop any other from slave-trading since the commerce is largely confined to areas like Saudi Arabia, isolated from the rest of the world.

THERE IS a connection, however, between the implications of the new convention and those of the segregationist disorders now going on in some of the southern States of America. There is, of course, a world of difference between Saudi Arabia's "chaste" slaves and the free descendants of American negro slaves, as there is between slave commerce and racism. America's problem, however, is the direct outcome of slavery and probably to some extent the indirect outcome of the slave-trader's mentality. While the abolition of racialism exists in any considerable measure there can hardly be any true moral objection to the enslavement of the "inferior" group.

THE comforting fact remains that the current mob violence of segregationists in Tennessee and other States with a large Negro population, and even in Texas, is representative of minority struggle against a steadily increasing joint movement backed by Congress and the Federal Judiciary. Where, for example, South Africa is attempting to consolidate, consolidate and give legal validity to racism, America is attempting to break it up and even to make it an offence against the State. It looks like being a long process, but at least it is a process headed in the right direction.

The Hebrew University of Jerusalem

sregrets to announce the death of

Prof. Moshe Schwabe

Professor and Head of his Department of Classics; one of its builders and veteran scholars.

The funeral procession will leave from the Tel Hashomer Hospital today at 2:30 p.m. for the Kiryat Shaul Cemetery.

Jordan Ambushers Entered Israel

The Jordan force that killed six Israel soldiers and wounded three others on Monday penetrated into Israeli territory, the investigation of the Mixed Armistice Commission shows, the Foreign Ministry spokesman disclosed last night.

The Israeli patrol was ambushed near Dawayima in the Lachish area by a force using mortars and rifles.

The incident was reported to the Foreign Ministry by a U.N. Truce Supervision Organization spokesman.

The clash with Egyptian troops is alleged to have taken place inside Egyptian territory, northwest of El Kousseima, the Egyptian spokesman claimed.

The clash with Egyptian troops is alleged to have taken place inside Egyptian territory, northwest of El Kousseima, the Egyptian spokesman claimed.

The post mortem held at the Government Institute of Forensic Medicine at Abu Kabir said that the bodies of all six had been dragged along the ground. Rifle and bayonet wounds were found on two of the deceased, the spokesman reported.

Reports from Seoul said that 11 Koreans had died as a result of the high winds and floods brought by "Emma." The police reported that there were 11 others missing.

More than a dozen U.S. Air Force planes and 10 Japanese ships traversed the ocean to northern Japan and Siberia today looking for the plane of the American B-50 reconnaissance plane which disappeared in the typhoon last night. The plane sent in its last position report while en route to the Chinese Canal dispute, and also is connected with the likelihood of the question being referred by one of the London Conference nations to the U.N. Security Council.

Air Force officers discounted the possibility that it might have wandered over Soviet territory or have been shot down.

The storm has since spent itself in the Sea of Japan. (UPI, Reuter)

6 Buried With Military Honours

The six soldiers killed on Monday in the Lachish area in a clash with Jordanian forces were buried yesterday with full military honours.

Benyamin Hameiri, 21, and Yehoshua Zeruya, 22, were laid to rest in the Mt. Herzl Military Cemetery in the Capital, while the third Jerusalemite, Shmuel Sacha, 22, was buried on Har HaShanahut at the rear of his family.

shops along Jaffa Road were closed as the long military procession headed by three army trucks, each bearing a coffin draped with the national flag, moved out of the Russian Compound. Military chaplains recited Kaddish at the gravesides.

Benyamin Hameiri was a scholar at the Hebrew University. His mother was out shopping for household goods with which to furnish an apartment for him and his bride to be when the news of his death was brought to her.

Shmuel Sacha, another University student, was the son of Zalman Sacha, a bookshop owner in Jaffa Road.

Newcomer from Morocco

Yehoshua Zeruya, a newcomer from Morocco, joined the Border Police 15 months ago. His family intended to join him in Israel shortly.

Moche Lerman, 19, a Rehovot Cohen in Tel Aviv, was buried in the Military Section of the Kiryat Shaul Cemetery. He had just completed his second year at the Law Faculty at the University.

Yaakov Friedland, 23, of Kibbutz Ga'ash, in the Sharon Plain, was buried at the kibbutz. Escortred by a guard of honour the body was brought to the kibbutz's room, where friends paid their last respects. He was single. Friedland immigrated to Israel in 1947. He fought with distinction during the War of Independence, and in 1948 became one of the founders of Kibbutz Ga'ash. He was to have been released from the Army today.

David Groshovsky, 20, of Kibbutz Revadim, near Geva, was buried last night in the settlement. He was the third member of the kibbutz to be killed by the enemy this year.

Single and an only son, he left his parents in Poland, where his mother still lives. He was to have entered the University this year to study agriculture.

Peace-Lovers Can Stop Aggressors—USSR

LONDON, Tuesday (Reuter).—Searchlights lit up the sky above petrol dumps in Cyprus last night as anti-aircraft practice was held for the first time since World War II.

The giant build-up of the island during the Suez crisis in the past few days has made petrol a precious commodity.

Newspaper reports here, not contradicted by officials, have stated that the Army is taking special precautions around oil petrol dumps and thus enforce an acute petrol shortage in Cyprus in the event of war.

An official spokesman said today that certain precautionary measures were being worked out in case the supply of petroleum products in Cyprus was interrupted.

U.N. Asked to Discuss Human Rights

UNITED NATIONS, Tuesday (UPI).—The Greek Ambassador at its session opening November 23 the U.N. General Assembly gave a full discussion to measures to protect human rights throughout the world.

Greece's demand for the inclusion of a human rights item on the agenda was interpreted as a bid for a double discussion on the future of Cyprus at the Assembly's annual meeting.

Specifically, Greece asked for a debate on "interim measures" pending the entry into force of the U.N. Covenant on Human Rights. It is inadmissible," the statement declared, "that while the discussions on human rights are dragging along on the theoretical level, human rights are being constantly violated."

It is quite clear that the people who have broken the colonial yoke are determined not to give up the struggle against colonialism until it is liquidated once and for all," the meeting, which was convened yesterday, reported yesterday from the Leopoldo capital.

"Our times will be cherished by all peoples, not for the sabre rattling and atomic bomb threats, but for the equality and friendly co-operation achieved by the peoples."

President Sukarno, in reply, said that "Indonesians hate colonialism. They have won their independence in the struggle against colonialism and they are now fighting against it."

AFTER MIDNIGHT

Vladimir Koz, the leading Soviet distance runner, yesterday easily "battered" the 10,000-metre world record with a time of 28 minutes, 26.4 seconds, according to Moscow radio.

Cabinet Holds Special Session On Defence

The Cabinet was called into an extraordinary special session at 2 p.m. yesterday. The one and a half hour meeting was held under the chairmanship of the Minister of Finance, Mr. Levi Eshkol, in the absence of the Prime Minister, who is still on leave, the Jerusalem Post learns.

The Cabinet meeting was followed by a sitting of the Foreign Affairs and Security Committee in Tel Aviv.

The official communiqué reported only that the Cabinet discussed foreign affairs and security.

The Foreign Minister, Mrs. Golda Meir, later attended a meeting of the Foreign Affairs and Security Committee.

Details were given of the murder of the six Israel soldiers on the border in the Lachish area on Monday, the official reported.

Mrs. Meir then reviewed the political action taken by the Government both during and after the London conference on the Suez Canal dispute, and also is connected with the likelihood of the question being referred by one of the London Conference nations to the U.N. Security Council.

Force officers discounted the possibility that it might have wandered over Soviet territory or have been shot down.

The storm has since spent itself in the Sea of Japan. (UPI, Reuter)

Bomb Thrower in Oran Lynched by Angry Mob

ORAN, Tuesday (UPI).—An infuriated mob last night lynched one of a band of terrorists which perpetrated three bombings in as many downtown cafes inside of four hours.

Three persons were injured by the blasts, one seriously. Considerable property damage was also caused.

As the third explosion went off, one of the cafe customers spotted the thrower, and gave chase, together with hundreds of other near vicinity crowd, soon caught up with the terrorist and hanged him from a lamp-post before the police could intervene.

Meanwhile, in Camp Bechar, southern Algeria, four French soldiers were killed and nine others injured in a terrorist ambush of their army company, it was announced yesterday.

Mr. Eban refused to say whether the talks had touched on Israel's request for a loan from the International Export Bank in the course of the discussion of U.S.-U.N. economic relations. (INA, UP)

(Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Moshe Schwabe, H.U. Scholar, Dies in Tel Aviv at 67

We regret to announce the death at Tel Hashomer Hospital of Prof. Moshe Schwabe, Head of the Department of Classical Studies and former Rector of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, after a prolonged illness.

Prof. Schwabe was by no means remote from the world, and had served as president of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem.

He was a member of the Executive Committee of the Zionist Organization in Germany.

As a teacher, Prof. Schwabe took part in influencing the general outlook and future of his students, and for a number of years took groups to visit Greece.

Prof. Schwabe was a well-known authority on Greek epigraphy and author of a number of scholarly books, among which are "Greek Inscriptions in Palestine," "The Inscriptions of Both She'arim," "Philo on the Evolution of the World," "The Ten Jewish Friends of Mohammed" and other publications.

The funeral procession will leave the Tel Hashomer Hospital at 3:30 this afternoon. Special buses will leave from Rehovot Luria in Tel Aviv.

No Consent For U.S. Stockpiling in India

NEW DELHI, Tuesday (UPI).—India has not agreed to the U.S. buying and stockpiling strategic materials in India out of funds available to America under the recent agricultural commodity agreement between the two countries, the Indian Finance Minister said today.

It is quite clear that the people who have broken the colonial yoke are determined not to give up the struggle against colonialism until it is liquidated once and for all," the meeting, which was convened yesterday, reported yesterday from the Leopoldo capital.

"Our times will be cherished by all peoples, not for the sabre rattling and atomic bomb threats, but for the equality and friendly co-operation achieved by the peoples."

President Sukarno, in reply, said that "Indonesians hate colonialism. They have won their independence in the struggle against colonialism and they are now fighting against it."

AFTER MIDNIGHT

Vladimir Koz, the leading Soviet distance runner, yesterday easily "battered" the 10,000-metre world record with a time of 28 minutes, 26.4 seconds, according to Moscow radio.

8 Lebanese Jews Held for 'Spying'

Eight Jewish members of the Beirut bourgeoisie have been detained by the Lebanese authorities in connection with the discovery of what is described as the largest espionage net ever to have been set up in the Arab world. "El Jihad," reported yesterday from Lebanon.

Professor Schwabe served as Rector. He played a prominent part for many years in the Israel Exploration Fund.

Prof. Schwabe is a distinguished scholar and acknowledged authority on Classical studies, especially Greek language and literature. Prof. Schwabe was by no means remote from the world, and had served as president of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, after a prolonged illness.

Prof. Schwabe was by no means remote from the world, and had served as president of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, after a prolonged illness.

As a teacher, Prof. Schwabe took part in influencing the general outlook and future of his students, and for a number of years took groups to visit Greece.

Prof. Schwabe was a well-known authority on Greek epigraphy and author of a number of scholarly books, among which are "Greek Inscriptions in Palestine," "The Inscriptions of Both She'arim," "Philo on the Evolution of the World," "The Ten Jewish Friends of Mohammed" and other publications.

The funeral procession will leave the Tel Hashomer Hospital at 3:30 this afternoon. Special buses will leave from Rehovot Luria in Tel Aviv.

Specialty

PAGE TWO

Visitors' Gallery

Globe-Trotting Ambassador

When "Sonny" Sales took off from Lydda Airport for Europe yesterday, he had visited 48 countries and 100 cities. To complete his mission as President of the Junior Chamber International, he still had 30 more visits on his programme.

Globe-trotting is in fact the major duty of his office as World President for, in the year he is expected to serve, every Chamber of the international organization embracing a membership of almost 400,000, must be visited. World travels of this kind have been increasing over the past continents, crammed at times into so many hours per country, and punctuated on route by feverish report writing on each for the international headquarters in Miami, in the U.S.

At a luncheon given in his honour on Sunday by the executives of the local Israel Chamber, he was attended by high officials of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Education. "Sonny" Sales, looking fresh and thoroughly rested, betrayed nothing of the wear and tear of globe-trotting, nor of the supercharged programme already covered in Israel. In the course of his crammed hours during his brief visit, he had seen Cabinet Ministers and high-ranking Government officials, municipal leaders, heads of institutions and members of the Israel Chamber, packing a tour of Jerusalem into his programme as well.

Interviewed at a special press conference, the "Jaycee" President outlined the aims and beliefs of his world-wide organization. They are: to organize young people between 21 and 40 (in the U.S. it is up to 35) for the promotion of the brotherhood of man, for service to the community, free enterprise (not of the 19th century variety) based on social obligations (not laissez faire), government by the dignity of man and of labour. To promote co-operation between countries, mutual respect and understanding, the friendship of young men the world over.

These principles, which obviously belong to a free and democratic world, find their expression in practical projects such as community centres, libraries, milk and blood banks, children's hospitals, clinics for underprivileged children, setting up aid-centres, emergency relief programmes in countries far apart, to help those who are less fortunate than themselves, to assist in the reconstruction of Europe, and to found a College of Nursing.

Mr. Salomon Dbara Mayorga, President of the Nicaraguan-Israel Cultural Institute in Managua, visited the Hebrew University yesterday and was shown around the new campus.

Mr. Abraham Mann will speak on "The Days of Repentance" at the Patriotic Club luncheon at 1:15 p.m. today at the King David Hotel.

Have your dinner in the superbly decorated, unique Suceca of the King David Hotel, Jerusalem. Kosher during Succot, under the supervision of the Rabbinate. For reservations, phone 4211, Jerusalem. (Advt.)

Hadassah Graduates 30 Nurses, 10 Specialists

Jerusalem Post Reporter
Revolutionary changes in the approach to the nursing profession were stressed yesterday by Dr. J. K. Mana, Director of the Hadassah Medical Organization in addressing the graduating class of the Hadassah-Herzliya Saad Nursing School in Jerusalem. In addition to 30 nurses, the school graduated 10 others who had specialized in community health.

Dr. Mana said that this was the first class trained in the new curriculum, both in practice and theory, at the Community Health Centre in Kiryat Yovel. The school has also successfully introduced a nine-month course for in-service training.

Recognizing the urgent need for nurses who could become supervisors and instructors, talks had been initiated with the Hebrew University on founding a College of Nursing.

Miss Etta Margalit, head of the School, also stressed the importance of the family orientation towards the family, as opposed to the individual; while Professor G. Mer. Director-General of the Ministry of Health, extended the greetings of his Ministry.

Mrs. Myriam Granot, chairman of the Hadassah Council in Israel, thanked the Mother Superior of St. Joseph's Convent, for her continued hospitality in housing the school.

The certificates were distributed by Dr. A. Dostrovsky, who has attended every graduation ceremony since the school's inception.

Kidron to Attend Lemu's Inauguration

Mr. Mordechai Kidron, Deputy Permanent Representative at the U.N., will represent Israel at the inauguration of El Salvador's new President, Mr. Jose Maria Lemus, which will take place on Friday at San Salvador.

Mr. H. Liebes, Israel's Honorary Consul in El Salvador, will be a member of the special Israel mission, a Counsellor.

Mr. Samuel Benur, Minister to Austria, has also been appointed as Charge d'Affaires in Budapest. Mr. Katalin Katz, the former Charge d'Affaires in Budapest, has left for Warsaw to take up his post as Israel Minister in Poland.

1,400 Texts On View in Tel Aviv

TUESDAY, Sept. 15.—Some 1,400 titles of school texts books which have been published locally are on view at the exhibition which was opened by Mayor Haim Levanon today. The exhibition is sponsored by the United Hebrew Book Publishers Association, and is being held on the premises of the Association at 66 Rothschild Boulevard.

The exhibition is intended to acquaint the teachers with the many new books which have appeared with the introduction by the Ministry of Education of a new programme. It will remain open for a month between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m. daily, except on the Jewish holidays.

Glickman Named Diamond Controller

Mr. Y. Glickman, Director General of the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, has been appointed as Controller of Diamonds as of August 31. It was announced yesterday. Mr. Glickman's predecessor is Mr. Y. Varnas, now Director-General of the Ministry of Finance.

RESERVATIONS

NAHARIYA 100 TEL-AVIV 62025

Meet the Israels—Tourists invited to meet Israeli Government Tourist Office, Jerusalem, Tel Aviv and Haifa.

JERUSALEM—Exhibitions—

Antiquities—

Department of Antiquities, Temples, New Books from the Government of the

THE JERUSALEM POST

U.S. Scientists At Weizmann Institute

Two American scientists have arrived in Israel to take up one-year research fellowships at the Weizmann Institute of Science.

Dr. Ernest Kaplan, of the U.S. Naval Research Laboratory in Washington, D.C., who arrived in Haifa last week, holds one of the Louis Lipsky Exchange Fellowships for 1956-57. He will spend the next year in the Weizmann Institute's Department of Applied Mathematics.

Mr. Walter J. Gessler, Associate Professor of Chemistry at Boston University, who arrived in Haifa last week with his wife and family, is one of the six Chaim Weizmann Fellows.

His wife is a daughter of Dr. Alexander M. Dushkin of the Hebrew University, will pursue his research in the Organic Chemistry Department of the Institute.

World Co-operation

By such activities, the exchange of visits and experiences publications in the scientific journals of the various branches of science, the organization fosters world co-operation and friendship between young people and deepens mutual understanding.

The organization first began in the U.S. and spread to England, France, the rest of Western Europe and later to the Far East. In the Middle East, Israel, Lebanon, Iran and Iraq have flourishing branches. Contacts have been established in Jordan and Egypt which "Sonny" Sales visited during his recent trip.

He is of the opinion that

"a wonderful opportunity exists for a hard-working

Chamber in Israel to help in the promotion of co-operation between countries, and to help

young people coming here.

In his meeting with Mrs. Golda Meir, the Foreign Minister, "Sonny" Sales stressed the opportunity "Jaycees" provides to Israel's young people to tell their story, make friends throughout the world and gain sympathy for Israel.

The first branch, with 200 members, will be formed in Tel Aviv, and a second will soon be started in Jerusalem.

One of the major advantages of the organization is that it is non-political.

All who wish to join and take part in its projects, which according to its paper, "Rising Stars," include assisting homes for children, helping frontier settlements, and carrying on economic research, may do so provided they are between 21 and 40 years of age. "We are seeking young men of action," concluded "Sonny" Sales.

When his plane took off yesterday, Hong Kong born 34-year-old World President Sales — of Portuguese descent and nationality — left behind many Israel friends.

They all agreed that "he combines great driving ability, charm, humour and friendliness — an excellent ambassador of an organization which is doing excellent work to better the lot and understanding of man."

Y.M.

The collection is aimed at capturing part of the market abroad.

TRUCKS ARE FORBIDDEN to enter the Shikman market, in the Mahane Yehuda quarter of Jerusalem, from 10 p.m. to 5 a.m. the Municipality announced yesterday.

Old Biblical Scenes Reproduced

A collection of 170 Biblical scenes, first printed in Amsterdam in 1682, has been reproduced by the Jerusalem Bible Publishing Company.

The pictures, which have been tastefully reproduced, have been arranged in ten albums according to their theme. The back of each picture contains the appropriate Biblical text in Hebrew, English, French and Spanish.

In the original 1682 edition published by Nicholas Visscher, the texts were given in Dutch, Latin, French, German and English.

The collection is aimed at capturing part of the market abroad.

Sudden Disarmament Can Harm Economy'

WASHINGTON, Tuesday (Reuter). — A Senate Subcommittee has reported that those nations who are rearming are spending $100,000,000 a year.

The report questioned whether nations engaged such arms race could order abrupt and drastic disarmament without harming their economies.

It said the economies of the U.S. and the Soviet Union, particularly, could be affected by sudden disarmament.

The committee's report was based on its recent hearings before the chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, Mr. Hubert Humphrey (Democrat, Minnesota).

The senator, in a statement accompanying the report, said fundamental decisions were needed on numerous issues to enable "control and reduction of the weapons of destruction."

EMERGENCY PHARMACIES

JERUSALEM: Zichron Moshe, 10 Yechezkel 4191.

TEL AVIV: Magen David, 35 Ben Yehuda, 3650, Greenberg, 46 Herzl Street.

KATELZ: 123 Dizengoff, 2330, Ha-dashah, Hatikva Qtr.

JAFFA: Saad, 24 Jaffa Street.

NETANYAHU: 101 Carmel Street, 51 Bialik, 75514, Levin-Sagan Haneghev, Greek Qtr. PETAH TIKA: Gobio, 2 Pinhas, 101 Carmel Street, 51 Bialik, 75514, Levin-Sagan Haneghev.

HAIFA: Rapaport, 26 Herzl Street.

EMERGENCY PHYSICIANS

JERUSALEM: Dr. Ullman, 36 Abrahan, 4380.

TEL AVIV: Dr. Gruber, 35 Ben Yehuda, 3650, Greenberg, 46 Herzl Street.

KATELZ: 123 Dizengoff, 2330, Ha-dashah, Hatikva Qtr.

JAFFA: Saad, 24 Jaffa Street.

NETANYAHU: 101 Carmel Street.

HAIFA: Dr. Sherman, 3 Hanover Street, 3604, Dr. Ludwig, 24 Shavit Street.

Monitor:

Mr. Ted Lazarus

The Forum will take place at the Touring Club, 12 Rehov Dizengoff, Talbiyah, Jerusalem, on Wednesday, September 15, 1956, at 8:45 p.m.

The programme will be recorded and part of it will be broadcast by Kol Zion Lagola.

Government Tourist Corporation

100 King George Ave., Jerusalem

All Tourists

are invited to participate in a Forum where they can put forward questions of all kinds which will be answered by the following experts:

Mr. M. De-Shalit

Minister of the Prime

Ministry's Office

Mr. D. Z. Teicher

Director of Information, Ministry of Foreign Affairs

Rabbi Jacob Goldman

Head of the Jerusalem Office of the Joint Distribution Committee

Mr. Avner Hovne

Minister of Labour

Mrs. Lee Ben-Dov

Assistant Editor of The Jour-nalem Post.

Editor of The Jerusalem Post

The Forum will take place at the Touring Club,

12 Rehov Dizengoff, Talbiyah, Jerusalem, on Wednesday,

September 15, 1956, at 8:45 p.m.

The programme will be recorded and part of it will be broadcast by Kol Zion Lagola.

for the beginning of the new school-year for 2 weeks only

IL 100 reduction and easy terms of payment on each

PIANO

Pianos from IL 1,000 upwards, with Full Guarantee

PIANO

Medicines Arrive from London, Jaffa Woman's Condition Better

LYDDA AIRPORT, Tuesday.—An anxious husband waited on the tarmac here last night as an Air France aircraft circled the aerodrome and finally landed with two cartons of Daptazole Magnide drugs, unmarketable in large quantities.

No sooner had the air hostess stepped from the aircraft than Mr. Aharon Yochimowitz took the boxes from her hand and made his way to customs to clear the medicines so urgently needed by his wife, Esther, who is suffering from acute kidney poisoning.

At noon yesterday, Dr. Eli Braun hurried into the offices of "France-Soir," a Paris newspaper, and a physician friend in Tel Aviv asking for the rare drug to be sent to him within 24 hours as it was a "matter of life and death."

"What can I do?" Braun asked anxiously. "I do not possess the drug—it does not exist in France."

In order not to cause further delay, customs men freed the medicine and the husband had signed a note stating that he would pay any duty that might be asked of him.

After she had received instructions of the drugs last night, Mrs. Yochimowitz's condition is understood to have improved.

The medicines were sent from London over the air. After obtaining the drugs in London, urgent messages were flashed between 25 radio amateurs, each send-

Hungary to Buy More Phosphates

Jerusalem Post Reporter

With the sailing of three ships this week to Hungary, the full order of 20,000 tons of phosphates will have been filled by the Ministry of the Ministry of Development announced yesterday. Shipments began in April.

An Hungarian trade delegation is expected here shortly to renew the agreement. In his recent visit to Hungary, Mr. Shmuel Dicker, Director of the Phosphates Company, reached agreement in principle.

At noon yesterday, Dr. Eli Braun stepped from the office of "France-Soir," and a physician friend in Tel Aviv asking for the rare drug to be sent to him within 24 hours as it was a "matter of life and death."

"What can I do?" Braun asked anxiously. "I do not possess the drug—it does not exist in France."

A "France-Soir" reporter told him to a colleague who was due to appear on television. The news spread out over the air and within a few moments the telephone operators at "France-Soir" and the T.V. studio were deluged with phone calls offering advice.

Only 15 minutes after the broadcast, a provincial doctor indicated the London hospital where the drugs could be obtained.

Two hours later, an aircraft took off from London for Tel Aviv with its precious cargo.

All Officials Must Fly by El Al

All Government officials flying abroad must use El Al Airlines, the Ministry of Finance informed all officials in a circular yesterday. The Ministry spokesman said that this instruction was intended to save foreign currency.

Minister of Finance Levi Eshkol leaves today to attend the Euro Drive conference in the U.S. He will fly by El Al.

2 Grenades Found On J'lem Roof

Jerusalem Post Reporter

Two hand-grenades, of recent Israeli manufacture, were found on Monday evening on the roof of the Youth Labour Exchange building in Rehov Shmuel HaNagid in Jerusalem.

The detonator caps had been removed from them, making them harmless.

The grenades were found after the police had initiated an intensive investigation into the death of Elijah Sinal, a watchman of the Ratisbonne monastery, who was killed early this week while handling a grenade.

This is the fourth time within the past two years that grenades have been found, or have exploded, causing injuries to persons within the immediate vicinity of Rehov Shmuel HaNagid.

The investigation continues. (Item)

Two Experts Due At Potash Works

Jerusalem Post Reporter

BEERSHEBA, Tuesday.—Two of the world's top experts in the production of potash by solar evaporation are to arrive in this country within the next two weeks, Rav-Alur M. Makleff, general manager of the potash works, who returned a few days ago from a one-month visit to the U.S., has announced.

The two experts are Mr. George Attwood, manager of the potash works at Carlsbad, New Mexico, and Mr. N. Ferris, manager of the potash works at Salt Lake City, Utah.

Mr. Attwood is expected to arrive next week and to spend a month in Sdom, where he will study local production methods. Mr. Ferris will arrive in two weeks. He is to spend a few months in Sdom studying the problems of solar evaporation.

Both men are coming at the personal invitation of Mr. Makleff, who visited their factories in the other five potash plants in the U.S. He stated that he was well received everywhere and was offered assistance and advice. The future planning of potash production may depend on the opinion of the experts, Mr. Makleff said.

Mr. Emanuel Tinter, who accepted the job of administrative manager of the works at Sdom has resigned and a successor is believed to have been chosen, but his appointment will have to be approved by the Board of Directors before it is made public.

Representatives of Adut HaAvoda and the League against Religious Compulsion are scheduled to testify tomorrow morning.

Industrial Exports Show Increase

Jerusalem Post Reporter

Exports in August reached $3.50, a rise of $2.4 million over August, 1955, according to figures published by the Ministry of Commerce and Industry yesterday. The rise is explained by the considerable increase in industrial exports and diamonds.

Total exports in the first eight months of the year reached $78.5 million, an increase of $2.8 million over last year. Industrial exports in August were $3.3 million, an increase of $300,000 over last year. The rise is a result of higher metal exports (mainly metal pipes), light industrial goods, and building materials. There was a further decline in the export of cars.

They are Mr. Levi Avrahami, Jerusalem District Superintendent of Police who will answer questions arising out of his previous testimony; Messrs. Fred Slyman, Eliezer Shilson and Yehuda Arbel, all Assistant District Superintendents.

Representatives of Adut HaAvoda and the League against Religious Compulsion are scheduled to testify tomorrow morning.

Panthers, Ballet, Clowns To Perform in Tel Aviv

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV, Tuesday.—Seven black panthers, a ballet of 24 dancers, clowns and music hall performers accompanied by a ten-piece band will appear with the "U.S.A. Ice Parade 1956" to have its premiere at the Ziratron in Ramat Gan on September 22 or 23.

The impresarios, Daka Service, Ltd. and Pelevon, have already begun work to prepare the Ziratron for the performances.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

Mr. E. Luft, told the Press today that "Parade" will cost $100,000. The former besides a large number of technicians, who will be kept busy for several days installing the necessary equipment. Travel arrangements would cost IL$30,000. Mr. Luft said. The performers would arrive in the s.a. Pace for two days before the premiere.

"Parade" would perform twice nightly for two-and-a-half hours, and would remain in Israel for a month. Special performances for children would also be given.

THE JERUSALEM POST

Founded as the Palestine Post in 1922. Published daily except on Saturday in Jerusalem by The Palestine Post Limited. Registered in the G.P.O.

Founder
GERSHON AGNON

Managing Editor
TED R. LURIE

Editorial Office and Management:
JERUSALEM: 9 Mahavatet,
P.O.B. 11 Tel. 4288 (4 lines).
TEL AVIV: Bureau: 22 Nahal
Binayim, P.O.B. 1128, Tel. 4285/2.
HAIFA: Bureau: 1 Rehov Khatay,
P.O.B. 61, Tel. 2696 (2 lines).
Subscriptions: Israel ILR.00.
Foreign ILR.00 per year.

Wednesday, September 12, 1956
Ticket 1, 1956. — Radar 7, 1956

WHEN the Small Zionist General Council concluded its deliberations last night it was clear that the main technical problem that INFUX would face the World Zionist Organization and the State of Israel during the coming year would be immigration and the allied question of settlement on the land, without which substantial immigration will not be possible.

But it was precisely on the question of settlement that the report of Mr. Levi Eshkol, the Head of the Jewish Agency Settlement Department, was most disturbing. He pointed out that since May 1948, 466 new settlements have been established, or rather begun, for many of them have yet to be consolidated. These settlements have, it is true, absorbed 32,000 families or about 120,000 people. Even since the Zionist Congress in the Spring of this year another 22 new settlements have been set up, most of them in security areas and for considerations of security. But Mr. Eshkol's warning was clear. We have reached a position of financial pressure which is so grave that not even security settlements may be within our means in the near future. This was not because help from the Jewish world had fallen off. On the contrary. It was simply that the cost and pace of settlement was so great that it exceeded the funds available.

But if settlement was faced with this dire emergency even with last year's rate of immigration, then the problem will be even greater this year when a new and greater wave of immigration is expected. North Africa's Jewry poses a problem which must be brought to a solution during coming months. The prospects of a considerable easing of emigration restrictions in Eastern Europe are also brighter this year than they have been for a long time due to the changes in policy that have followed the end of Stalinism. Thus for example, there is reason to believe that Poland, which fears a rerudescence of anti-Semitism, may seek to reduce the likelihood of this phenomenon, so dangerous to its own stability, by facilitating emigration.

In the debate in the Council there was not, and it could not be expected that there would be, much new light thrown on the problems which will be created by these prospects. As Mr. Eshkol pointed out, Israel's own Development Budget can contribute little to settlement, strained as it is to the limit by present urgent demands. This means that the resources for increased immigration and its concomitant, land settlement, will have to come from Jewish communities abroad, which have already put forth an outstanding effort in the past year under the spur of Israel's dangerous security situation.

For the Israeli the new immigration which the New Year is certain to bring, spells an accretion of strength and hope for the future, but also the need for sacrifice in many ways. There will certainly be a reduction of housing standards; there may even have to be some forms of rationing of vital necessities. The present artificially high standards of living which in some sectors developed mainly in the lull which followed the 1948-52 mass immigration, must not be permitted to stand in the way of renewed immigration.

Integration Battle On In Southern States

By PHILIP DEANE

WASHINGTON (O.P.N.S.) — The current race violence in Tennessee, Texas and Kentucky was bound to come with the reopening of the schools after the summer vacation and the translation of integration from a hated word into a reality. And the reality is being conducted with weapons potentially far more dangerous than stones or torches.

All the cases of recent violence have been by-products of court decisions forcing the hitherto segregated schools to admit Negro students. The violence has proved divisive for the South and harmful to the political control of the region's leaders. Mob violence by whites has frightened other whites (even among the segregationists) into supporting armed enforcement of court decisions.

To avoid such splits and tensions, white supremacy leaders are busy forging against integration weapons that will not entail a direct clash with the law. It is these weapons, legislative ones for the most part, which are the big thing in the race battle of the southern United States.

The purpose of these weapons is broadly to continue with segregation in ways that do not, in the letter of the law, contravene the U.S. Supreme Court decision banning segregation in public schools. In America, public schools are non-independent schools.

Coupling Integration

Alabama, for example, in a referendum, adopted an amendment to the State Constitution authorizing the abolition of public schools. State funds will still be given to segregated private schools.

South Carolina, Georgia and Mississippi have adopted similar measures. Georgia, Carolina and Louisiana have put through legislation denying State funds to integrated schools.

Other States have adopted the legalistic dodge of permitting "the assignment of pupils to special schools" on grounds other than racial.

The measure is so elastic that it will, in effect, permit racial segregation without calling it that. Another set of tactics calls for the responsibility of the schools on the State Legislature rather than on school authorities. The purpose of this is to make anti-segregation attacks through the courts much more difficult.

New legislation will be voted as necessary, say the white supremacists, so that the opponents of segregation will have to fight an endless battle against each new measure through the State and Federal courts up to the Supreme Court.

The danger of such actions is the degradation to which they bring the democratic process—electorates that are, in some cases, only white minority groups denying the right to Negroes, pure measures obviously violating the spirit of the American Constitution and defying the supreme tribunal in the land. Laws are used to deny legality.

But of the 15 States with serious school integration problems, only eight, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia.

Yesterday's Press

Patience Wearing Thin

THE Beersheba railroad

mining, the murder from ambulances of six Israel soldiers or the Panagia affair are all of the same piece and are to be viewed against the background of a divided West and Western hesitancy, writes Hatzofe (World Mizrahi), and the more the West toses about between threat and concession the greater the danger that Nasser, aided by Communists and the like, will now turn on Israel which, after all, has always been the main target of his ire and ambition. As for Israel, it is still true that she desires peace, but the dictator may push her a little too far and force her to deliver him a telling blow.

Haboker (General Zionists) insisted that the task of the U.N. Staff observers are to draw up a report in line with their observations and not to take sides or try to whitewash the guilty party by reducing an attack from ambush to a shooting match. No "neutralistic" formulation will be able to water down the severity of the crime or to exonerate Jordan from the responsibility for it. The time has come to check these trans-border attacks.

Attention

Self-Employed Workers and Companies

The arrangement for making advance payments to Yahav Mogen in five installments through authorized banks has been extended to Sept. 30.

This extension has been made in compliance with public demand and in view of the number of holidays and vacations which interrupt the regular business schedule.

Persons not taking advantage of this arrangement, which will expire at the end of the month, will be required to make Yahav Mogen payments in two installments.

For its own benefit the public is requested to make use of this extension.

ginia are the hard cases, seemingly determined to keep segregation at all costs. In the other seven, Arkansas, Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, Tennessee, Texas and West Virginia, despite occasional outbreaks of tension and violence, legislation has not yet been used to foil the Supreme Court, though in these states and Virginia, such legislation is to be voted upon soon.

The picture is by no means uniform, even within each State. There are areas with few Negroes where integration seems to proceed smoothly; the larger the proportion of Negroes, the more the trouble. In Kentucky and outside the South, 500,000 Negro students have been integrated already.

Varied Views

Washington white anti-segregationists say this indicates a trend and that the South will have to give way. Negro leaders are less optimistic. According to them, the attitude of the South has hardened, and under the Federal Constitution, southern States can keep up a legal battle almost indefinitely.

These facts emerge from a jungle of emotions, a welter of words, pictures of people from whose faces passion has rubbed out all decency. The negro apes, along with illuminating patches of courage such as that shown by the Reverend C. W. Clark at Mansfield, Texas, who faced an angry mob and preached his Christian faith in the equality of men whatever their colour. Representative John B. Orr, Jr., of Miami, states his political future to raise a lone anti-segregation voice in the Florida Legislature, which he hushed into respectful silence.

And people like that are winning support. In Louisiana, the Catholic Church is making headway against segregation. Elsewhere, the white supremacists are continuing their actions forcing people to choose between distasteful integration and law and order. The number of those who choose law and order is proving a shock to the segregationists.

The disorders, after all, were quelled by National Guardsmen, people from the race-conscious South.

Border States

In Virginia, the political machine of violently anti-integration Senator Harry Byrd has been shaken. A former Governor of the State, Colgate W. Darden Jr., now President of Virginia University, spoke against the abolition of public schools, favoured by Senator Byrd. In Texas, there is a dead political conflict, centring upon the constitutional issue.

The danger of such actions is the degradation to which they bring the democratic process—electorates that are, in some cases, only white minority groups denying the right to Negroes, pure measures obviously violating the spirit of the American Constitution and defying the supreme tribunal in the land. Laws are used to deny legality.

But of the 15 States with serious school integration problems, only eight, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia.

ginia are the hard cases, seemingly determined to keep segregation at all costs. In the other seven, Arkansas, Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, Tennessee, Texas and West Virginia, despite occasional outbreaks of tension and violence, legislation has not yet been used to foil the Supreme Court, though in these states and Virginia, such legislation is to be voted upon soon.

The picture is by no means uniform, even within each State. There are areas with few Negroes where integration seems to proceed smoothly; the larger the proportion of Negroes, the more the trouble. In Kentucky and outside the South, 500,000 Negro students have been integrated already.

Varied Views

Washington white anti-segregationists say this indicates a trend and that the South will have to give way. Negro leaders are less optimistic. According to them, the attitude of the South has hardened, and under the Federal Constitution, southern States can keep up a legal battle almost indefinitely.

These facts emerge from a jungle of emotions, a welter of words, pictures of people from whose faces passion has rubbed out all decency. The negro apes, along with illuminating patches of courage such as that shown by the Reverend C. W. Clark at Mansfield, Texas, who faced an angry mob and preached his Christian faith in the equality of men whatever their colour. Representative John B. Orr, Jr., of Miami, states his political future to raise a lone anti-segregation voice in the Florida Legislature, which he hushed into respectful silence.

And people like that are winning support. In Louisiana, the Catholic Church is making headway against segregation. Elsewhere, the white supremacists are continuing their actions forcing people to choose between distasteful integration and law and order. The number of those who choose law and order is proving a shock to the segregationists.

The disorders, after all, were quelled by National Guardsmen, people from the race-conscious South.

Border States

In Virginia, the political machine of violently anti-integration Senator Harry Byrd has been shaken. A former Governor of the State, Colgate W. Darden Jr., now President of Virginia University, spoke against the abolition of public schools, favoured by Senator Byrd. In Texas, there is a dead political conflict, centring upon the constitutional issue.

The danger of such actions is the degradation to which they bring the democratic process—electorates that are, in some cases, only white minority groups denying the right to Negroes, pure measures obviously violating the spirit of the American Constitution and defying the supreme tribunal in the land. Laws are used to deny legality.

But of the 15 States with serious school integration problems, only eight, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia.

ginia are the hard cases, seemingly determined to keep segregation at all costs. In the other seven, Arkansas, Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, Tennessee, Texas and West Virginia, despite occasional outbreaks of tension and violence, legislation has not yet been used to foil the Supreme Court, though in these states and Virginia, such legislation is to be voted upon soon.

The picture is by no means uniform, even within each State. There are areas with few Negroes where integration seems to proceed smoothly; the larger the proportion of Negroes, the more the trouble. In Kentucky and outside the South, 500,000 Negro students have been integrated already.

Varied Views

These facts emerge from a jungle of emotions, a welter of words, pictures of people from whose faces passion has rubbed out all decency. The negro apes, along with illuminating patches of courage such as that shown by the Reverend C. W. Clark at Mansfield, Texas, who faced an angry mob and preached his Christian faith in the equality of men whatever their colour. Representative John B. Orr, Jr., of Miami, states his political future to raise a lone anti-segregation voice in the Florida Legislature, which he hushed into respectful silence.

And people like that are winning support. In Louisiana, the Catholic Church is making headway against segregation. Elsewhere, the white supremacists are continuing their actions forcing people to choose between distasteful integration and law and order. The number of those who choose law and order is proving a shock to the segregationists.

The disorders, after all, were quelled by National Guardsmen, people from the race-conscious South.

Border States

In Virginia, the political machine of violently anti-integration Senator Harry Byrd has been shaken. A former Governor of the State, Colgate W. Darden Jr., now President of Virginia University, spoke against the abolition of public schools, favoured by Senator Byrd. In Texas, there is a dead political conflict, centring upon the constitutional issue.

The danger of such actions is the degradation to which they bring the democratic process—electorates that are, in some cases, only white minority groups denying the right to Negroes, pure measures obviously violating the spirit of the American Constitution and defying the supreme tribunal in the land. Laws are used to deny legality.

But of the 15 States with serious school integration problems, only eight, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia.

ginia are the hard cases, seemingly determined to keep segregation at all costs. In the other seven, Arkansas, Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, Tennessee, Texas and West Virginia, despite occasional outbreaks of tension and violence, legislation has not yet been used to foil the Supreme Court, though in these states and Virginia, such legislation is to be voted upon soon.

The picture is by no means uniform, even within each State. There are areas with few Negroes where integration seems to proceed smoothly; the larger the proportion of Negroes, the more the trouble. In Kentucky and outside the South, 500,000 Negro students have been integrated already.

Varied Views

These facts emerge from a jungle of emotions, a welter of words, pictures of people from whose faces passion has rubbed out all decency. The negro apes, along with illuminating patches of courage such as that shown by the Reverend C. W. Clark at Mansfield, Texas, who faced an angry mob and preached his Christian faith in the equality of men whatever their colour. Representative John B. Orr, Jr., of Miami, states his political future to raise a lone anti-segregation voice in the Florida Legislature, which he hushed into respectful silence.

And people like that are winning support. In Louisiana, the Catholic Church is making headway against segregation. Elsewhere, the white supremacists are continuing their actions forcing people to choose between distasteful integration and law and order. The number of those who choose law and order is proving a shock to the segregationists.

The disorders, after all, were quelled by National Guardsmen, people from the race-conscious South.

Border States

In Virginia, the political machine of violently anti-integration Senator Harry Byrd has been shaken. A former Governor of the State, Colgate W. Darden Jr., now President of Virginia University, spoke against the abolition of public schools, favoured by Senator Byrd. In Texas, there is a dead political conflict, centring upon the constitutional issue.

The danger of such actions is the degradation to which they bring the democratic process—electorates that are, in some cases, only white minority groups denying the right to Negroes, pure measures obviously violating the spirit of the American Constitution and defying the supreme tribunal in the land. Laws are used to deny legality.

But of the 15 States with serious school integration problems, only eight, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia.

ginia are the hard cases, seemingly determined to keep segregation at all costs. In the other seven, Arkansas, Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, Tennessee, Texas and West Virginia, despite occasional outbreaks of tension and violence, legislation has not yet been used to foil the Supreme Court, though in these states and Virginia, such legislation is to be voted upon soon.

The picture is by no means uniform, even within each State. There are areas with few Negroes where integration seems to proceed smoothly; the larger the proportion of Negroes, the more the trouble. In Kentucky and outside the South, 500,000 Negro students have been integrated already.

Varied Views

These facts emerge from a jungle of emotions, a welter of words, pictures of people from whose faces passion has rubbed out all decency. The negro apes, along with illuminating patches of courage such as that shown by the Reverend C. W. Clark at Mansfield, Texas, who faced an angry mob and preached his Christian faith in the equality of men whatever their colour. Representative John B. Orr, Jr., of Miami, states his political future to raise a lone anti-segregation voice in the Florida Legislature, which he hushed into respectful silence.

And people like that are winning support. In Louisiana, the Catholic Church is making headway against segregation. Elsewhere, the white supremacists are continuing their actions forcing people to choose between distasteful integration and law and order. The number of those who choose law and order is proving a shock to the segregationists.

The disorders, after all, were quelled by National Guardsmen, people from the race-conscious South.

Border States

In Virginia, the political machine of violently anti-integration Senator Harry Byrd has been shaken. A former Governor of the State, Colgate W. Darden Jr., now President of Virginia University, spoke against the abolition of public schools, favoured by Senator Byrd. In Texas, there is a dead political conflict, centring upon the constitutional issue.

The danger of such actions is the degradation to which they bring the democratic process—electorates that are, in some cases, only white minority groups denying the right to Negroes, pure measures obviously violating the spirit of the American Constitution and defying the supreme tribunal in the land. Laws are used to deny legality.

But of the 15 States with serious school integration problems, only eight, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia.

ginia are the hard cases, seemingly determined to keep segregation at all costs. In the other seven, Arkansas, Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, Tennessee, Texas and West Virginia, despite occasional outbreaks of tension and violence, legislation has not yet been used to foil the Supreme Court, though in these states and Virginia, such legislation is to be voted upon soon.

The picture is by no means uniform, even within each State. There are areas with few Negroes where integration seems to proceed smoothly; the larger the proportion of Negroes, the more the trouble. In Kentucky and outside the South, 500,000 Negro students have been integrated already.

Varied Views